

Daily Need to Know

Thursday, 1 October 2026 · Pre-market brief · Late catch-up, produced Fri 2 Oct 06:30 GMT+8

The scheduled 06:00 run did not fire on 1 Oct. This edition reconstructs Wednesday's settled session after the fact; no live overnight levels exist for it. Edition notes are in section 16.

READ THIS FIRST — This edition is reconstructed. Every level is a Wednesday 30 Sep settle, recovered on Friday morning from TradingView prior closes and wire copy. There is no overnight tape, no live FX or metals, and no Hedgeye update. The Friday 2 Oct edition, delivered alongside, carries the current picture.

1 Market snapshot — Wednesday 30 September settle

Not recovered for Wednesday: spot gold, silver and copper; Comex settles; spot FX; crypto; index-future settles. Feeds recaptured on Friday only show Thursday's close for those series, and no wire copy with Wednesday levels was found. Bands are from the Tue 29 Sep Early Look.

2 The big picture — what it meant on Wednesday

- Inflation came in cool and bonds sold off anyway. Core PCE was 3.0% y/y vs 3.3% expected, yet the 10-year rose 5.5bp to 5.289% and the 30-year 6.5bp. Part of the miss was a BEA methodology revision worth ~0.3pt, and bond buyers discounted it.
- The Fed backed away from October. CME odds of an October hike fell to ~35% from ~50% the day before and ~70% earlier in the week (Yahoo). New York Fed President John Williams said there was "no need for urgency".

3. Labour stayed firm. ADP added 90k vs 70k expected, from 38k. Wednesday's data said "slower inflation, steady jobs" — and the long end read that as no reason to own duration.
4. Breadth broke. The equal-weight RSP fell 0.71% against SPY −0.21%. Ten of eleven sectors fell; only tech rose. The S&P's small loss hid a broad down day.
5. Oil rebuilt its premium. Brent Dec +1.9% and WTI +1.2% on stalled US-Iran diplomacy and product draws (gasoline −1.7m bbl, distillates −2.3m bbl). Brent's November expiry at $103.50 shows how tight the prompt barrel still is.

5 Macro, corporate & geopolitics

- August PCE: headline 3.4% y/y vs 3.7%; core 3.0% vs 3.3%, +0.2% m/m vs +0.3%. Three-month annualised core ~2.0% after revisions (Yahoo).
- ADP September: +90k vs +70k; prior +38k; pay +3.2% (UPI, CNBC).
- Q2 GDP third estimate and personal spending: released Wednesday; figures not recovered this run.
- Micron (after Wednesday's close): FQ4 revenue $54.2bn, EPS $33.42 vs $31.16, gross margin 87%; FQ1 guide $61.5bn. Supply seen "much tighter" through 2027-28 (Investing.com).
- Iran: Trump denied he was willing to ease sanctions, stalling talks (CNBC, Rio Times).
- EIA stocks: crude +0.9m bbl; gasoline −1.7m; distillates −2.3m (Rio Times).

6 What Asia opened into on Thursday

- Previous closes (Wed 30 Sep): Nikkei 66,753.50 (+1.94%), KOSPI 6,838.05 (−0.48%), Hang Seng 24,613.28 (+0.37%), Shanghai 3,842.19 (+0.31%), Sensex 72,480.29 (−0.07%). Europe: Euro Stoxx 50 6,269.03 (−0.81%), DAX 25,199.19 (−0.79%), FTSE 10,606.01 (−0.29%), CAC 7,964.52 (−0.89%).
- Thursday's calendar: Hong Kong and mainland China shut (National Day; China's Golden Week to 7 Oct); BOJ Tankan; US ISM manufacturing and claims; Nike after the close.
- The handover was Micron's after-hours beat into a market already shut in China — Tokyo and Seoul were the only large venues to price it.

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT (already known at production): Nikkei closed Thursday +3.3% on Micron. The US 10-year hit 5.342% intraday before closing 5.243%. Brent Dec settled 102.31 after China halted fuel exports. The S&P rose 0.19%. Full detail is in the Friday 2 Oct edition.

7 About this edition

- Status: LATE CATCH-UP, produced Fri 2 Oct ~06:30 GMT+8. The 1 Oct 06:00 run did not fire because the scheduled task was paused while its computer was offline.
- Covers: the US session of Wed 30 Sep as settled, including PCE, ADP, the Brent November expiry and Micron's after-hours results.
- Reconstructed from: TradingView prior-close fields captured Fri 06:21 GMT+8 (cash indices, yields, ETFs, stocks, DXY, VIX, Asian and European closes); wire copy for oil settles. Nothing in this edition is a live price.
- Hedgeye: PUBLIC EDITION. The Wed 30 Sep Early Look was not read; Tuesday's bands are shown, stale.
- Shortened format: sections without a verifiable Wednesday basis (overnight tape, live FX, metals, positioning, stock cards) are omitted rather than filled with later data.

9 Data-confidence

CROSS-CHECKS PASSED

- Index closes: AP's Wednesday wire — S&P 7,651.54 (−19.30), Dow 50,906.05 (−443.87), Nasdaq 26,861.06 (+63.52), Russell 2,796.86 (−11.06) — equals TradingView's prior closes exactly. Each also chains from Tuesday's capture: 7,670.84 − 19.30 = 7,651.54.
- Oil: Tuesday's WTI 89.38 + 1.04 = 90.42 and Brent Dec 96.16 + 1.87 = 98.03, matching both wire sources.
- Yields and ETFs: Wednesday values are TradingView prior closes on Friday's capture; Tuesday's capture provides the base for each change.

KNOWN CONFLICTS AND WEAK MARKS

- Single machine source: Yahoo was rate-limited (0/62), so every non-index row rests on TradingView alone.
- Fed odds come from one Yahoo article (CME FedWatch-based) and are approximate.
- Prior-close fields are the feed's own record of Wednesday, read two days later. They are reliable for cash instruments. For 24-hour series (FX, spot metals, crypto) the field reflects Thursday, which is why those rows are omitted.

KNOWN GAPS

- Hedgeye: Wednesday's Early Look, Macro Show, ETF Pro and Signal Strength updates were not read. Absence of a reported change is not evidence there was none.
- Not recovered: Wednesday spot and Comex metals, spot FX, crypto close, index-future settles, Q2 GDP third estimate, personal income and spending, Micron's after-hours percentage move.

TIMING & UNVERIFIED

- Age: every level is ~26.5 hours old at production (Wed 16:00 ET close = Thu 04:00 GMT+8). The Friday 2 Oct edition supersedes all of it.
- Do not act on these levels. This is an archive record of the session, not a trading reference.
