1 Market snapshot — the close, and where it is trading now

ASSET	LAST	CHANGE	NOTE
US CASH EQUITIES — MONDAY 28 SEP SETTLE · CLOSED 04:00 GMT+8, ~3.3 HOURS OLD AT CAPTURE
S&P 500	7,683.69	▼ -59.72 (-0.77%)	Range 7,666.6–7,724.2; closed at 30% of it. 1.7% below the 7,816.70 high. 62% of Hedgeye band 7550–7765.
Nasdaq Composite	26,820.38	▼ -248.34 (-0.92%)	Gave back all of Friday's gain and more. 34% of band; 1.7% off high.
Dow Jones	51,481.51	▼ -347.11 (-0.67%)	Closed at 19% of range; 6.0% below its high.
Russell 2000	2,817.91	▼ -19.64 (-0.69%)	12% of a bearish band, 10 points off the floor; 8.2% off high.
Philadelphia SOX	12,465.23	▼ -203.70 (-1.61%)	Worst index. Nvidia up, but Intel –5.7%, AMD –3.6%, Micron –2.6% two days before Micron reports. 14.9% off high.

US 5-year	5.072%	▲ +7.9bp	Largest rise on the curve. Through 5% again.
US 2-year	4.931%	▲ +7.1bp	2s10s +30.5bp , from +30.7bp: a parallel bear shift. Keith: +67bp in a month.
13-week bill	4.162%	▼ -1.6bp	The only tenor to fall. October hike odds ~70% (USAGold, TradingKey).
COMMODITIES — WTI/BRENT MONDAY SETTLE FROM WIRE; FUTURES AND SPOT METALS LIVE ~70–80 MINUTES INTO THE NEW SESSION
WTI (Nov)	93.27	▲ +0.67 (+0.72%)	Live. Settled 92.60 (+0.19) after a $4 spike faded on Qatar-talks headlines. 18% of band.
Brent (Nov)	105.28	▲ +0.96 (+0.92%)	Settle (Reuters). TradingView's BZ1! has rolled to Dec at 98.65 — a $6.63 Nov–Dec backwardation, not a crash. See §18.
Natural gas	3.143	▲ +0.037 (+1.19%)	Live. Back in bullish TREND per Keith; 53% of band.
RBOB gasoline	3.1707	▲ +0.0129 (+0.41%)	Live. Diesel-export-ban debate is the products story (Mansfield).
Gold (spot, live)	4,124.61	▲ +9.48 (+0.23%)	Monday: –$170, –3.95% from Friday's $4,284.55. Broke TREND; Hedgeye now bearish. 6% of band, $14 above the floor.
Silver (spot, live)	60.772	▲ +0.147 (+0.24%)	Monday –5.7% from $64.29. 19% of a lowered bearish band. SLV –5.5%.
Copper (spot, live)	6.5176	▲ +0.0117 (+0.18%)	Monday –2.5%. 28% of band; Comex HG 6.618.
DOLLAR, VOLATILITY, CRYPTO
DXY (live)	101.174	▲ +0.140 (+0.14%)	71% of band; 0.6% below the 101.80 high. Change reference is suspect (§18); vs Friday's 101.249 close it is –0.07%.
USD/JPY (live)	157.408	▲ +0.038 (+0.02%)	Morning range 157.34–157.44: 10 pips — noise, not a move.
USD/KRW (live)	1,359.68	▲ +4.65 (+0.34%)	Offshore. Onshore won closed Monday at 1,365.1 (–7.6 won) as KOSPI fell 2.7%.
VIX	16.08	▲ +1.20 (+8.06%)	51% of a bearish band. MOVE +6.1% to 101.8 : bond volatility leads again.
Bitcoin (live)	83,495	▼ -949 (-1.12%)	Range $82.6k–85.0k since 00:00 UTC. Keith's buy level is ~$80,416, the new low end of his range.

Colour key: ▲ green up, ▼ red down, ◆ amber flat. Captured 07:20:52–07:20:54 GMT+8 on TradingView; Yahoo was rate-limited and returned nothing. Cash index closes and point changes match Yahoo Finance's closing figures exactly; WTI and Brent settles are Reuters' (via Lufkin Daily News) and match TradingView's prior-settle reference to the cent. Yield changes are in basis points against Monday's prior close. Futures, spot-metal and FX changes are measured over roughly 70–140 minutes of new-session trade and are not information. Hedgeye band percentages use the series Hedgeye names ($4).

TL;DR — The weekend's Iran reversal landed as a rates shock, not an oil shock. Brent settled only +0.9% at $105.28 after a $4 spike faded on Qatar-talks headlines. The 10-year printed 5.274% intraday, the highest since 2007, and closed at 5.236%. Gold fell 3.95% and silver 5.7%. The S&P fell 0.77% and closed 26 points above the 7,658 negative-gamma line Keith flagged. HYG, LQD, TLT and XLU all closed on 52-week lows. Hedgeye cut gold to bearish, its second signal change in three sessions. It also added Financials and Mexico as shorts and dropped its last gold long. Today: the RBA at 12:30 GMT+8 (hike to 4.60% expected), then JOLTS and Conference Board confidence at 22:00. PCE and Micron follow on Wednesday.

2 The big picture — what it means

- Monday priced the Iran rejection through yields, not crude. Trump's weekend rejection of Tehran's Hormuz proposal sent oil up more than $4 at the open. It gave most of that back once Reuters reported that Qatari mediators would hold separate talks with Iran and the US on Monday or Tuesday. WTI settled +$0.19. The 10-year still rose 6.9bp to 5.236% and the 30-year hit 5.581% intraday. The bond market did not wait for the oil market to confirm.
- The curve shifted up in parallel; it did not steepen. The 2-year rose 7.1bp, the 5-year 7.9bp and the 10-year 6.9bp, so 2s10s was unchanged at +30.5bp. Only the 13-week bill fell (–1.6bp). This is an inflation-and-hike repricing across the curve. October hike odds rose to ~70% from ~64% the prior day (USAGold). Governor Cook said total inflation is "almost double our target".
- Gold broke, and Hedgeye followed it down. Spot fell $170 to $4,115 at the close, a seven-week low, and silver fell 5.7%. Hedgeye cut gold from neutral to bearish and moved the floor $113 lower. ETF Pro removed its physical-gold long, and Keith said he would probably exit the rest of the long-term position. The signal was bearish on Thursday, neutral on Friday and bearish again on Monday. Rates at 5.2% with the dollar at the top of its range is the #Quad2 set-up in which gold loses.
- Credit made new lows again, and on a down day for equities this time. HYG (77.42), LQD (102.18) and TLT (78.27) all printed 52-week lows intraday and closed near them. HYG and LQD closed below the floors of bands that had just been lowered. Utilities closed on their 52-week low as well. On Friday, equities rallied while credit fell. On Monday both fell together.
- Equity leadership is down to one name. Nvidia rose 1.7% on a $150bn buyback increase. Every other Mag7 name fell, Meta by 4.8% and Tesla by 3.9%. Semis fell 1.6% (SOX) despite Nvidia, because Intel (–5.7%), AMD (–3.6%) and Micron (–2.6%) sold off two days before Micron reports. The S&P closed at 62% of a band whose ceiling was cut 32 points. Keith put its risk/reward at roughly eight units of downside for each unit of upside.
- The week's data now carries a second hike. Core PCE on Wednesday is expected at +0.3% m/m and 3.3% y/y. ISM manufacturing on Thursday is expected at 55.0. Payrolls on Friday are expected at +90k, down from ~100k last week, against August's +162k. A hot PCE with the 10-year already at 5.24% would take it through Hedgeye's 5.26% ceiling.

3 Rates, currencies & commodities

- Treasuries: 2y 4.931% (+7.1bp), 5y 5.072% (+7.9bp), 10y 5.236% (+6.9bp), 30y 5.550% (+6.0bp); 3m–10y +107bp. Hedgeye raised the 10-year floor 9bp to 5.02% and the ceiling 5bp to 5.26%. Both the TRADE and the TREND point higher. Keith's pair is long oil and short duration (TLT, ZROZ, LQD).
- Dollar: DXY is 101.17 live, 71% of a bullish band, and 0.6% below its 101.80 high. It is roughly flat since Friday's close: Monday's move was in rates and metals, not the dollar index. Keith's stress points are elsewhere in FX. MXN fell 2.8% last week and the Colombian peso 3.9%, and he now wants to short Mexico (EWW).
- Crude: Brent Nov settled $105.28 and WTI Nov $92.60, a $12.68 spread, the widest since May (Mansfield had $12.02 intraday). Brent Dec trades at 98.65, so the scarcity premium sits in the prompt month. Middle East exports rose to 12.8m b/d in September, the highest since February (Reuters), which is why the spike faded. Keith is long Brent (BNO) and selling strength near the top of its range.
- Products: the Trump administration is weighing a diesel export ban. Goldman estimates each week of a ban lowers US retail diesel by ~$0.25/gal. Once storage fills, each week adds ~$0.30/gal to gasoline, and refinery runs could fall by more than 2m b/d (Mansfield). Hedgeye added to its crack-refiner long (CRAK) on Friday.
- Gold: spot is $4,124.61 live, 6% of a band that was cut to $4,111–4,331. It is 26.3% below its 52-week high of $5,598.75. The gold/silver ratio is 67.4 (USAGold).
- Silver and copper: silver is $60.77 live, 50% below its high, with the band cut $1 to $60–64. Copper spot is $6.5176, 28% of its band. Comex HG trades at a $0.10 premium.

- Nat gas: $3.145 live, mid-band. Keith said it is back in bullish TREND and that the inflationary commodity move reaches beyond crude (AI-generated show summary, paraphrased).

4 Hedgeye — regime, risk ranges & the Quad path

SIGNAL	READING	SOURCE & TIME (GMT+8)
Regime	#Quad2 , late-cycle. "Dollar Up, Rates Up, Gold Down." US growth is expected to peak in Q3 2026 and slow "more obviously" in 1H 2027.	Early Look, Mon 28 Sep 19:29
Quad path	No explicit path notation seen. The Macro Week Summary Notes (Sat 06:32) carry the Quad Forecast in PDF form that could not be extracted this run. Nothing here asserts the path is unchanged.	Macro Week Summary, Sat 06:32
Rates	Short duration unchanged: TLT, ZROZ, LQD, HYG. Inflation Nowcast "continues to tick higher".	Top 3 Things, 20:30
Book	Gold long being exited. Added to CRAK (Friday). New BUG long. Sold low-vol/high-dividend. Bitcoin: buy near 80,416. Shorts: INDA, EWG, EWL, QAT; EWW raised as a new short.	Macro Show notes (AI summary), 22:11
Changes	ETF Pro: +XLF short, +EWW short; -AAAU (gold) long, -EWZ long. Signal Strength: 53 stocks (3 added, 8 removed). The 11 names printed are CRON, CURLF, PBF, GSL, MGNI, MDB, DGX, ANET, PI, GLBE and AKAM; the text does not say which were added and which removed.	ETF Pro 22:28; SSS 23:45

Risk Range™ Signals — Early Look "Another #Quad2 Week, It Was", Mon 28 Sep 07:29 ET (19:29 GMT+8), Keith McCullough

INSTRUMENT	RANGE	TREND	PRIOR (25 SEP)	Δ FLOOR / CEILING	WIDTH	WHERE IT STANDS NOW
UST 10-year yield	5.020-5.260	bullish	4.930-5.210	+0.090 / +0.050	0.280 → 0.240	5.236 — 90% . Monday's 5.274 intraday was a 52-week high, 1.4bp inside the new ceiling. Floor raised 9bp: the biggest upward shift in the table.
High Yield (HYG)	77.63-78.71	bearish	77.75-78.73	-0.12 / -0.02	0.98 → 1.08	77.54 — below the floor by 9¢ (-8%). Closed on its 52-week low of 77.42.
Inv. Grade (LQD)	102.60-104.80	bearish	103.00-105.00	-0.40 / -0.20	2.00 → 2.20	102.47 — below the floor by 13¢ (-6%). Also closed on a 52-week low (102.18 intraday), even after the floor was cut 40¢.
S&P 500 (SPX)	7,550-7,765	bullish	7,546-7,797	+4 / -32	251 → 215	7,683.69 — 62% . Ceiling cut 32 points; the 7,658 negative-gamma line Keith cited is 26 points below the close.
Nasdaq Comp. (COMPQ)	26,419-27,611	bullish	26,397-27,500	+22 / +111	1,103 → 1,192	26,820.38 — 34% . Ceiling raised 111 points on the same day the index fell 0.9%.
Russell 2000 (RUT)	2,808-2,888	bearish	2,812-2,894	-4 / -6	82 → 80	2,817.91 — 12% , 10 points above the floor. Keith's preferred index short.
Health Care (XLV)	166-172	bullish	166-172	+0 / +0	unchanged	171.26 — 88% . The long held up on a red tape (+0.33%).
Software (IGV)	103-109	bullish	103-110	+0 / -1	7 → 6	Not in the capture universe; position unknown.
Energy (XLE)	60.90-65.57	bullish	61.07-65.99	-0.17 / -0.42	4.92 → 4.67	62.10 — 26% . Both ends lowered; ceiling cut 42¢.

Volatility (VIX)	14.32-17.80	bearish	14.21-17.84	+0.11 / -0.04	3.63 → 3.48	16.08 — 51% , mid-band after +8.1%. Bearish TREND band barely moved.
US Dollar (USD)	100.08-101.62	bullish	99.98-101.65	+0.10 / -0.03	1.67 → 1.54	101.174 live — 71% . Floor raised 10¢, ceiling trimmed 3¢: the narrowest band of the two sessions.
Crude, WTIC continuous	90.53-105.85	bullish	87.96-107.99	+2.57 / -2.14	20.03 → 15.32	93.27 live on CL1! — 18% . Floor raised $2.57 and ceiling cut $2.14: the band tightened by a quarter.
Nat gas continuous	2.91-3.35	bullish	2.89-3.33	+0.02 / +0.02	unchanged	3.145 live — 53% . Band shifted 2¢ up at both ends.
Gold spot	4,111-4,331	bearish ▼	4,224-4,383 (neutral)	-113 / -52	159 → 220	4,124.61 live on TVC:GOLD — 6% , $14 above the new floor. SIGNAL DOWNGRADED neutral → bearish . On Comex GC it would read 20%.
Copper spot	6.41-6.80	bullish	6.40-6.79	+0.01 / +0.01	unchanged	6.5176 live on OANDA spot — 28% . Comex HG at 6.618 would misread as 54%.
Silver spot	60-64	bearish	61-65	-1 / -1	unchanged	60.772 live — 19% . Band lowered $1 at both ends after a -5.7% day.

Prior bands are from the Fri 25 Sep Early Look ("#Quad2 Crushing It!", Keith McCullough), as reproduced in the archived 28 Sep edition. The category feed does not paginate. Positions use Monday closes for cash, ETFs and yields, and live prints at 07:20 GMT+8 for futures, spot metals and DXY. Metals are measured on TVC/OANDA spot, crude and gas on the continuous contract. The bands were published before Monday's session, and HYG and LQD closed below their new floors that day. Tuesday evening's Early Look (~19:30 GMT+8) supersedes this set.

Band moves in one line. One signal changed: gold was downgraded to bearish from neutral, and its floor fell $113, the largest move in the table. The 10-year floor rose 9bp. WTI's band tightened by $4.71, with the floor up $2.57. The S&P ceiling was cut 32 points while the Nasdaq ceiling rose 111. HYG, LQD, RUT, XLE and silver were all lowered. Of the five bearish-TREND bands, only VIX's floor moved up (+0.11); the other four were lowered or left alone.

What Keith actually said

Early Look, Mon 28 Sep 07:29 ET / 19:29 GMT+8: "Dollar Up, Rates Up, Gold Down. Another #Quad2 week, it was." On gold: "it's down another -3.1% this morning after breaking TREND." On duration: "How much longer can #Quad2 in SEP US economic data be printed? A: well into October."

Same note, on financials: "XLF down -1.8% last week. -6.0% in the last month." On factors: top-quartile sales growth +2.0% against the bottom quartile -1.5%, and high-debt companies -1.8% against low-debt +1.0%.

Top 3 Things, 08:30 ET / 20:30 GMT+8: "Oil remains Bullish TRADE and TREND so keep buying the damn dips and selling the rips". Brent (BNO) "is almost at the top-end of its Risk Range this morning".

Macro Show, Mon 28 Sep (summary posted 10:11 ET / 22:11 GMT+8). The summary is AI-generated and carries Hedgeye's own error caveat, so it is reported here without quotation marks. S&P risk/reward is roughly 8:1 to the downside inside the range. Tier 1 Alpha puts the negative-gamma threshold near 7,658. One-month volatility near 14 is well below panic levels, and a rise could trigger vol-control selling. KOSPI failed Hedgeye's 7,052 TREND level. The summary quotes the 10-year "around 5.02%". That is the new band floor, not the print (5.236%), and is probably an error in the summary.

5 Mag7 scoreboard

NAME	LAST	DAY	CAP	READ
Nvidia NVDA	228.86	▲ +3.79 (+1.68%)	$5.52trn	Best megacap on the day: +$150bn added to the buyback (total $235bn) plus an agent-safety platform. Largest company at $5.52trn; 3.2% off high.

Apple AAPL	338.40	▼ -2.67 (-0.78%)	$4.94trn	Closed at 7% of its range, a day after a record close. 2.0% off high. Hedgeye still names it a long.
Alphabet GOOGL	342.75	▼ -1.17 (-0.34%)	$4.18trn	Held up best of the losers; still 16.1% below its 52-week high.
Microsoft MSFT	509.22	▼ -6.95 (-1.35%)	$3.78trn	Gave back a third of Friday's +3.7% Copilot rally. Hedgeye-named long.
Amazon AMZN	246.15	▼ -3.52 (-1.41%)	$2.66trn	-1.4%, closed mid-range; 14.3% off high.
Meta META	715.62	▼ -36.04 (-4.79%)	$1.82trn	-4.8%, closed at 6% of its range: the enterprise-AI push that took MongoDB's CEO reads as more spend. Second -3%+ day running.
Tesla TSLA	357.45	▼ -14.66 (-3.94%)	$1.41trn	-3.9%, closed at 5% of range. JPMorgan target cut to $415 (MarketBeat); Q3 deliveries seen ~463k. Hedgeye MOMO: TSLA=NEUTRAL.

Monday closes. Caps are TradingView's market_cap_basic. Combined Mag7 capitalisation is ~$24.3trn, down ~$0.2trn on the day. Postmarket moves across the capture universe were all within ±0.4%.

6 Positioning & options

- Gamma: the S&P closed at 7,683.69, 26 points above the ~7,658 negative-gamma level from Tier 1 Alpha that Keith cited. Monday's low was 7,666.6, 9 points above it. Below that line, dealer hedging adds to moves instead of damped them. This is a third-party estimate and is not verified here.
- VIX 16.08 (+8.1%) is mid-band. Keith's one-month calendar vol is ~14, against the 20s he associates with panic put-buying. MOVE rose 6.1% to 101.8, back above 100 and far above Hedgeye's ~75 benign threshold. Rates volatility is the one to watch.
- Crypto: Hedgeye's Crypto Quant reports US spot ETF inflows of +$3.03bn week on week, and Bitcoin -1.1% overnight. Bitcoin at $83.5k is 3.8% above Keith's ~$80.4k buy level.
- Hedgeye's short book is being rebuilt after Friday's cover. Financials and Mexico were added as ETF shorts on Monday, and credit and duration shorts were reaffirmed. Last week's cover-and-reload playbook is playing out.
- Factor tape (Hedgeye, last week): high-beta growth +2.6% against low-beta -2.2%. Monday cut against that: high-beta Meta, Tesla and AMD led the losses while low-beta Staples and Health Care rose.

7 Sector rotation — leaders & laggards

SECTOR	CLOSE	DAY	VS 52W HIGH	NOTE
XLV Health Care	171.26	▲ +0.56 (+0.33%)	-3.0%	Hedgeye long; 88% of band. Only defensive with a real bid.
XLP Staples	82.28	▲ +0.22 (+0.27%)	-8.7%	Defensive bid, still 8.7% off its high.
XLE Energy	62.10	▲ +0.06 (+0.10%)	-6.2%	Flat despite Brent +0.9%: crude gave back a $4 intraday spike.
XLRE Real Estate	41.35	▼ -0.21 (-0.51%)	-11.0%	Mortgage-rate pressure with the 10-year at 5.24%.
XLB Materials	49.47	▼ -0.33 (-0.66%)	-8.7%	Gold and silver miners dragged on a -4%/-5.7% metals day.
XLU Utilities	39.25	▼ -0.26 (-0.66%)	-17.9%	Closed on its 52-week low (39.06 intraday). 17.9% off the high.
XLI Industrials	168.78	▼ -1.65 (-0.97%)	-10.3%	Hedgeye short that was partly covered Friday gave back Friday's gain.
XLK Technology	194.53	▼ -1.74 (-0.89%)	-2.1%	Nvidia +1.7% could not offset Microsoft -1.4% and Apple -0.8%.
XLF Financials	54.19	▼ -0.65 (-1.19%)	-7.5%	Added as an ETF Pro short Monday. Closed at 9% of its range.
XLY Discretionary	109.00	▼ -1.56 (-1.41%)	-12.8%	Tesla -3.9% and Amazon -1.4%.
XLC Communications	111.18	▼ -1.78 (-1.58%)	-7.7%	Last: Meta -4.8% and Netflix -2.7%.

- Leaders: Health Care (+0.33%), Staples (+0.27%) and Energy (+0.10%). Only three sectors rose, and all three are defensive or inflation hedges.
- Laggards: Communications (-1.58%), Discretionary (-1.41%) and Financials (-1.19%). Communications was Meta; Discretionary was Tesla and Amazon. Financials fell on a day Hedgeye added them as a short.

- Rotation: the defensive bid was selective. Utilities fell 0.7% and closed on a 52-week low, because at a 5.24% 10-year a bond proxy does not act as a haven. Rate-sensitive sectors (XLU, XLRE, XLY) trail their highs by 11-18%; Health Care trails by 3%.

8 Forward — futures & the week ahead

Overnight tape. Globex reopened at 06:00 GMT+8. At the 07:20 capture the delayed feed showed about 70 minutes of trade. ES was +3.5 at 7,750.25 and NQ flat, on 5.3k and 5.1k contracts respectively. That is too thin to read direction. WTI was +$0.67 at $93.27. Spot gold was up $9 from Monday's close, but over ~80 minutes, so this is noise, not a bounce. Bitcoin was -1.2% since 00:00 UTC.

DAY (GMT+8)	KEY EVENTS
Tue 29	RBA 12:30: a hike to 4.60% is expected, which would be the highest since 2011 (Vantage, NAB). Case-Shiller 21:00. JOLTS (7.225m exp., 7.271m prior) and Conference Board confidence (89.2 exp., 89.4 prior) at 22:00. Fed: Bowman, Barr, Goolsbee, Williams, Waller. Carnival Q3.
Wed 30	China NBS/S&P PMIs 09:30. ADP +72k exp. (20:15). August PCE 20:30: core +0.3% m/m, 3.3% y/y; income +0.5%, spending +0.9%. Q2 GDP third estimate 1.5%. Fed: Barkin, Cook, Goolsbee, Kashkari. Micron after the close (Thu ~04:00 GMT+8).
Thu 1 Oct	BoJ Tankan 07:50. Mainland China shuts for Golden Week (to 7 Oct). ISM manufacturing 55.0 exp. (54.6 prior) and claims 200k exp. at 20:30/22:00. Nine Fed speakers, including Waller, Jefferson, Williams and Logan. Nike after the US close (Fri ~04:15 GMT+8).
Fri 2 Oct	Payrolls 20:30: +90k exp. (Aug +162k), unemployment 4.1%, AHE +0.3% m/m. Tokyo CPI; euro-area flash HICP. Tesla Q3 deliveries expected around this date (unconfirmed).

Consensus from a Goldman/ZeroHedge weekly compilation, not checked against Bloomberg. The next FOMC is 27-28 October. Nike's date is from the company's release as carried in the prior edition; Tesla's delivery date is unconfirmed.

9 Corporate news

- Nvidia (+1.68%, $228.86): added $150bn to its buyback authorisation, taking the total to $235bn, the largest in its history (Yahoo Finance). It also launched the Open Agent Safety Platform, which pairs OpenShell sandboxing with Sentry monitoring on BlueField-4 DPUs.
- MongoDB (~-20%): CEO CJ Desai resigned to take a senior role at Meta leading an enterprise AI platform (Bloomberg, Investing.com). Reported falls range from 17% to 27% depending on timestamp; MongoDB's close was not in the capture universe. Meta itself fell 4.8%.
- Intel (-5.67%, $116.03): profit-taking after +28% in a month, with read-across from Nvidia's agent-safety launch and reports of Apple cutting remaining Mac ties (Benzinga, StocksToTrade). No company statement.
- Tesla (-3.94%): JPMorgan cut its target to $415 from $445 (MarketBeat; single source). Q3 deliveries are expected around 463k, down year on year.
- Jefferies (after-hours): Q3 revenue of $2.22bn against $2.20bn consensus. SMBC has raised its stake to about 20%, and the two plan a joint equities and ECM venture from January 2027 (GuruFocus). The after-hours share reaction was not captured.
- Also: Kodiak Sciences more than doubled on Phase 3 results in macular degeneration (Yahoo). Oracle fell 3.3% for a third day on the Jupiter force majeure. AMD -3.6%; SanDisk -3.7%. SpaceX's Starship reached orbit for the first time and SPCX edged lower (Motley Fool, 24/7 Wall St).

10 Macro data

- Dallas Fed manufacturing, September: general activity 9.8 against 11.6 prior; consensus not found. Production jumped to 29.5 (16.1) and new orders to 30.7 (22.0). The future-outlook index fell to 8.7 (19.2), with respondents citing diesel costs and price resistance (InvestingLive). Output is strong and confidence is falling: the same gap UMich showed on Friday.
- China industrial profits, August: +4.2% y/y, the weakest monthly gain this year (InvestingLive). January-August is +15.7% (Xinhua). Consensus not found.
- Fed — Governor Cook (Oakland, 28 Sep): total inflation was "3.8 percent in the 12 months leading into August". She expects continued pressure from the AI build-out and from oil pass-through, and confirmed she voted for the September hike (Federal Reserve).
- Hike pricing: October 25bp probability ~70% (70.3% per USAGold; 68.1% per TradingKey), up from ~64% the prior session. Babypips cites S&P Global's September PMI at 58.4 and Atlanta Fed GDPNow near 5%. Neither was verified at source.
- Today: JOLTS 7.225m expected (7.271m prior); Conference Board 89.2 expected (89.4 prior).

11 Geopolitics

- ▼ Iran — rejection stands, talks resume. Trump on the proposal: "I'm rejecting their deal" (CBS). He told Axios talks would resume this week. Reuters reports Qatari mediators planned separate talks on Monday or Tuesday with Foreign Minister Araghchi in New York and with US officials, on a modified version of the seven-day plan.
- ◆ Iran — Tehran's position. Araghchi said Iran had not been formally notified of the rejection. President Pezeshkian said Iran would accept UN inspectors and wants a deal before the US midterms (CBS). These are the parties' own claims.
- ▼ Military. The IRGC claimed it captured a US Remus 600 underwater drone in the Strait. An IRGC official said Iran would target US ships in the Indian Ocean if fighting resumes (ABC). Saudi Arabia intercepted Houthi drones and ballistic missiles aimed at Riyadh (CBS). None of these was independently verified.
- ▲ Flows are recovering despite the stalemate. Middle East crude exports reached 12.8m b/d in September, the highest since the war began in February. Hormuz shipments are running at ~7.4m b/d, and Saudi Arabia repaired its East-West pipeline (Reuters, Mansfield). The US escorted 29 vessels on 26 September (CBS).
- ◆ US diesel export ban is under consideration, alongside regulatory relief for red-dyed diesel (Reuters, Mansfield). European wholesale diesel could rise ~$3/bbl a week under a ban.
- ◆ Russia-Ukraine: no market-moving development found in Monday's coverage. That reflects our search, not a guarantee.

12 Overnight setup — what Asia opens into

INSTRUMENT	LEVEL	CHANGE	STATE AT 07:20 GMT+8
ES (Dec)	7,750.25	▲ +3.50 (+0.05%)	Live; 5,307 contracts. Settled 7,746.75.
NQ (Dec)	30,596.25	▲ +30.00 (+0.10%)	Live; 5,111 contracts.
YM (Dec)	51,866	▲ +29 (+0.06%)	Live; 419 contracts.
RTY (Dec)	2,840.7	▲ +0.6 (+0.02%)	Live; 783 contracts.
USD/JPY	157.408	▲ +0.038 (+0.02%)	Live; 10-pip range.
USD/KRW	1,359.68	▲ +4.65 (+0.34%)	Live offshore; onshore closed 1,365.1.
USD/TWD	31.8119	▲ +0.0923 (+0.29%)	Live offshore.
USD/CNH	6.7099	▼ -0.0027 (-0.04%)	Live; 3-pip range. Mainland shuts Thu 1 Oct.
EUR/USD	1.1371	◆ +0.0000 (+0.00%)	Live; 9-pip range. Keith: bearish TRADE and TREND.
Gold spot	4,124.61	▲ +9.48 (+0.23%)	Live ~80 min; $11 range.
Silver spot	60.772	▲ +0.147 (+0.24%)	Live ~80 min.
Copper spot	6.5176	▲ +0.0117 (+0.18%)	Live, thin.
WTI (Nov)	93.27	▲ +0.67 (+0.72%)	Live; settled 92.60.
Brent	98.65	▼ -6.63 (-6.30%)	Dec contract; the change is against Nov's 105.28 settle. Roll artefact.
Bitcoin	83,495	▼ -949 (-1.12%)	Live; continuous.
Ether	2,688.59	▲ +1.43 (+0.05%)	Live; 43.5% below 52-week high.

Futures show ~70 minutes of visible session, spot metals ~80 and FX ~140. Treat those changes as noise. The Brent row is a contract-roll artefact: TradingView's continuous series moved to December and compares it with November's settle.

- Previous Asian closes (Mon 28 Sep): Nikkei 65,877.62 (-0.73%), closed on its low. KOSPI 6,889.75 (-2.70%), back below 7,000 and below Hedgeye's 7,052 TREND, with Samsung -5.4% and SK Hynix -5.1% (Korea Times). Shanghai 3,823.62 (-1.67%); Hang Seng 24,642.52 (+0.54%); ASX 8,679.7 (+0.17%); Sensex 72,771.72 (-1.52%), a Hedgeye short.
- What the US tape hands over: a semis sell-off (SOX -1.6%, Micron -2.6%) and a 10-year at a 2007 high. That points to more pressure on Tokyo Electron, Advantest and Seoul's memory names. The one bright spot is Nvidia's buyback, which helps the Nvidia supply chain in Taiwan more than memory.
- Korea did its catch-up selling on Monday. Pressure today comes from Oracle's power problems, SK Hynix's possible Solidigm US listing (Korea Times) and Micron on Wednesday. The won closed onshore at 1,365.1.
- Australia: the RBA decides at 12:30 GMT+8, with a hike to 4.60% expected. AUD/USD is 0.7016. NAB argues the RBA could be first in the G10 to begin cutting after this cycle.
- China has two sessions left before Golden Week (1-7 Oct). Wednesday's PMIs are the last print before the break, and profits just printed the weakest monthly gain of the year.

- The single instrument most likely to move: USD/JPY. It is at 157.41, 4% below its 52-week high, with US 10s at a 2007 high. Tokyo is where a US-rate shock reaches Asia first.

13 AI watch

- Agent safety is now a product category. Nvidia's Open Agent Safety Platform sandboxes agents (OpenShell) and monitors them in hardware (Sentry on BlueField-4). Benzinga tied part of Intel's fall to the launch, even though Intel is listed as a partner. That comes a week after the Meta Muse vulnerability.
- Talent war at CEO level: Meta hired MongoDB's sitting CEO to run an enterprise AI platform. That took ~20% off MongoDB and 4.8% off Meta in one session.
- AI as inflation: Governor Cook's Oakland speech named the AI build-out as a source of "continued pressure on inflation", alongside oil. A Fed governor now links AI directly to the rates debate that is pressuring equities.
- Power remains the constraint. Korea Times cited Oracle's Jupiter force majeure among the reasons Seoul's chip stocks fell 5%. Power, not demand, is what is stalling sites.
- Micron (Wednesday) is the week's AI-hardware test. The stock is 16% below its $1,255 high after Monday's -2.6%. Last week's guide was ~$50bn revenue and $31 EPS.

14 Beyond the markets

- Gold's Hedgeye signal has flipped three times in three sessions: bearish Thursday, neutral Friday, bearish Monday. The price made the decision in the end, falling $170 in a day. A signal that whipsaws around a TREND line is a warning that the level itself is contested.
- The oil scarcity premium is in the calendar. Brent November settled at $105.28 and December trades at $98.65. That backwardation of $6.63 in one month says the market expects Hormuz disruption to ease, even while the headlines say it will not.
- Starship reached orbit for the first time. SpaceX, now public, "did not react much" (24/7 Wall St). A company can clear a milestone that big and see the stock fall on the day, because the market had already priced the success in.
- Texas factories are busy and gloomy at once. The Dallas Fed production index jumped 13 points while the outlook index halved. Friday's sentiment-versus-PMI gap now shows up inside a single survey.

15 Appendix — stock cards

NVDA · NVIDIA

$228.86 ▲ +3.79 (+1.68%)

Buyback +$150bn to $235bn · Open Agent Safety Platform · Next: GTC DC (unconfirmed) · Cap $5.52trn

The day's only megacap up. A buyback this size is a statement about cash generation; the safety platform is what other chip names sold off on.

META · META PLATFORMS

$715.62 ▼ -36.04 (-4.79%)

Two-day -8.0% · Hired MongoDB's CEO for enterprise AI · Hedgeye: not named Monday · Cap $1.82trn

Closed at 6% of its range. The market is pricing the enterprise push as capex, not revenue, for now.

MDB · MONGODB

— ▼ ≈ -20%

~-20% (not captured; reports range -17% to -27%) · Named in Signal Strength add/remove line

The CEO left days before an investor day. William Blair: the announcement "creates more questions than answers" (Stocktwits).

INTC · INTEL

$116.03 ▼ -6.97 (-5.67%)

-5.7% · +28% in the prior month · 18.5% off high · Cap $0.61trn

Third fall of 3%+ in four sessions. Profit-taking plus the AI-safety read-across; no company-specific catalyst confirmed.

MU · MICRON

$1,053.98 ▼ -28.30 (-2.61%)

Reports Wed 30 Sep after close (Thu ~04:00 GMT+8) · 16.0% off high 1,255 · Cap $1.19trn

Down 2.6% into the print, with SK Hynix -5.1% and Samsung -5.4% in Seoul on Monday. The memory complex is de-risking ahead of it.

TSLA · TESLA

$357.45 ▼ -14.66 (-3.94%)

-3.9% · JPMorgan PT $415 (single source) · Q3 deliveries due ~2 Oct · Cap $1.41trn

Closed at 5% of range and 28.3% off high. Delivery numbers are the next test.

ORCL · ORACLE

$132.60 ▼ -4.50 (-3.28%)

-3.3% · 58.9% below 52w high 322.54 · Jupiter force majeure · Cap $0.40trn

Third losing day. Korea Times cited the Oracle power story as one reason Seoul's chip names sold off: this is now an Asia-supply-chain story.

XLFX · FINANCIALS SPDR

$54.19 ▼ -0.65 (-1.19%)

Added to ETF Pro short list Mon · -6.0% in a month (Keith) · Jefferies Q3 rev $2.22bn vs $2.20bn

Closed at 9% of range on a -1.2% day. Keith's framing: levered balance sheets meeting a higher cost of capital.

16 About this edition

- Covers: the US session of Monday 28 September (settled), Monday after-hours, and the first ~70 minutes of Tuesday's Globex, FX and metals trade. The previous Asian closes are Monday's.
- Captured: 07:20:52-07:20:54 GMT+8 (2.2s) on TradingView, 96 of 96 instruments. A first capture at 07:16:21 agreed on all 79 closed-market rows. Yahoo returned HTTP 429 both times; cross-checks were recovered from wire copy ($18).
- Clock: the run fired at 07:15:58 GMT+8, 76 minutes after the nominal 06:00 and 68 minutes after its scheduled 06:07:30. The effect was to give futures, metals and FX an hour more of live trade than a 06:00 run would have. Asian cash markets had not opened.
- Settled vs live: cash equities, Treasuries, ETFs and single stocks are Monday settles. ES/NQ/YM/RTY, WTI, gas, RBOB, spot metals, FX, DXY, Bitcoin and Ether are live. Brent is shown at its Reuters settle because the live series has rolled.
- Hedgeye edition: Full; the logged-in feed was reached after one Cloudflare re-try. The live risk-range set is Monday's Early Look ("Another #Quad2 Week, It Was", Keith McCullough, 19:29 GMT+8), which Tuesday's supersedes at ~19:30 GMT+8. Also read: Top 3 Things, the Macro Show summary, ETF Pro, the Signal Strength header, Capital Allocation Pro, and the MOMO and Crypto Quant headers.
- Quad path: no explicit path notation seen. The regime is late-cycle #Quad2.
- Not available: the MOMO Tracker and Crypto Quant bodies (image-based), the Capital Allocation Pro model-portfolio table (image), the Signal Strength list body, and the Macro Week Quad PDF.

18 Data-confidence

CROSS-CHECKS PASSED

- capture.py reconciliation: 0 matched ≤5bp · 0 minor · 0 divergent · 57 single-sourced. Yahoo aborted after five consecutive 429s in both captures. There are no divergent rows to resolve because no second machine source ran. That is an absence of evidence, not a clean reconciliation.
- Index closes, recovered by hand: S&P 7,683.69 (−59.72), Dow 51,481.51 (−347.11) and Nasdaq 26,820.38 (−248.34) match the Yahoo Finance closing figures to the cent: three of three. Arithmetic: $7,683.69 + 59.72 = 7,743.41$; $26,820.38 + 248.34 = 27,068.72$; $51,481.51 + 347.11 = 51,828.62$. All three equal Friday's closes in the archived 28 Sep edition.
- Crude: Reuters has WTI at 92.60 (+0.19) and Brent at 105.28 (+0.96). Friday's archived settles plus those changes give $92.41 + 0.19 = 92.60$ and $104.32 + 0.96 = 105.28$. TradingView's prior-close references reproduce both: CL1! $93.27 - 0.67 = 92.60$, and BZ1! $98.65 + 6.63 = 105.28$. Four of four.
- Rates and Asia: the 10-year at 5.236% agrees with Yahoo's 5.24%. KOSPI at 6,889.75 against Korea Times' 6,889.74 is a one-point rounding difference. Keith's Top 3 has Shanghai −1.7% and KOSPI −2.7%, which match the capture (−1.67%, −2.70%).
- Two-capture validity test: between 07:16:21 and 07:20:52, all 79 closed-market rows were identical and 17 live rows moved (futures, spot metals, FX, crypto). That is the expected pattern, and it confirms which rows are settled.
- Futures-cash basis is normal: ES +66.6 against SPX (−0.8%, consistent with ~80 days of carry), YM +384 and RTY +22.8. Hedgeye's 16-instrument band diff was run against Friday's Early Look.

KNOWN CONFLICTS AND WEAK MARKS

- Brent — contract roll. NYMEX:BZ1! prints 98.65 (−6.30%), but that is the December contract measured against November's 105.28 settle; Brent did not fall 6%. The brief uses the Reuters Nov settle for the snapshot and treats 98.65 as the Dec level. Separately, CNBC's headline "Brent tops $107" and Startup Fortune's "past $108" are intraday highs, not settles.
- DXY and USD/KRW change references are suspect. TradingView's prior-close values (101.034 and 1,355.03) equal, to the last digit, the live prints captured at 06:09 on Monday. That suggests a stale reference rather than a NY close. Levels are usable; the +0.14% and +0.34% changes are not. Against Friday's close of 101.249, DXY is −0.07%.
- Gold spot vs Comex: spot $4,124.61 and GC $4,155.00, a basis of $30.4 (0.74%). On Comex, gold reads 20% of its band; on spot it reads 6%. The brief uses spot, as Hedgeye names. Copper: 28% on spot against 53% on HG. USAGold's $4,148.69 (−3.19%) is an intraday mark.
- 10-year intraday high: TradingView 5.274%, Benzinga 5.25%, Motley Fool "5.26%" at midday. The 2007-high conclusion holds on any of them.
- Single-stock marks: MongoDB is quoted between −17% and −27% depending on timestamp, and its close was not captured. Intel: capture 116.03 (−5.67%) against ad-hoc-news 115.92 (−5.76%), an 11¢ gap from timing. The JPMorgan Tesla target has one source. The 52-week lows in HYG, LQD, TLT and XLU rest on single intraday-low fields: the conclusion is robust, the decimals are not.
- Hike odds: 70.3% (USAGold) and 68.1% (TradingKey). These are secondary outlets, not checked against fed funds futures.

- AI-summary error: the Macro Show notes put the 10-year "around 5.02%", which is the band floor. The brief treats it as a summary error.

KNOWN GAPS

- Hedgeye: the Quad path was not seen, because the Macro Week Quad Forecast is a PDF that did not render as text. Absence of a printed path is not evidence the path is unchanged. The MOMO Tracker and Crypto Quant bodies are image-based and unreadable, and they are the publications that would carry any intraday position change. Absence of a Hedgeye position change is not evidence there was none. The Signal Strength body was empty in text, so which three names were added is unknown. The Capital Allocation Pro model-portfolio changes effective 28 Sep are in an image.
- IGV, MongoDB, Kodiak, Jefferies and Nike are not in the capture universe. IGV's band position is unknown.
- Not found: the Dallas Fed and China profits consensus; Bowman's and Barkin's Monday remarks (only the schedule was seen); Jefferies' EPS and after-hours move; Tesla's delivery-release date.
- Russia-Ukraine: nothing market-moving found. That reflects the search, not a guarantee.

TIMING & UNVERIFIED

- Capture window 07:20:52-07:20:54 GMT+8. The stalest rows are cash equities, ETFs and single stocks, closed at 04:00 GMT+8: ~3.3 hours old. Treasury closes are ~3.3 hours old. The previous Asian closes are ~16-20 hours old.
- Live rows: futures with ~70 minutes of visible session (10-minute delayed feed), spot metals ~80 minutes, FX ~140 minutes, crypto continuous. Change figures on those rows are measured over too short a window to count as moves.
- Asian cash opens (Tokyo/Seoul 08:00-08:30, Hong Kong 09:30 GMT+8) and the RBA at 12:30 will reset the FX and Asia rows. Tuesday's Early Look (~19:30 GMT+8) supersedes all risk ranges here.
- Verify live prices before acting. This brief is information only and not investment advice.
